Mayor Vanderbilt during the Grand Opening of Jump in Playpen with owner, Tonie Robinson, and her staff in February along with Trustees Hardy, Hennessy, Graham, Settles, Woods, Phillip Perkins, EDAG Chair, and Sandra Zoellner, EDAG Liaison.

A message from Mayor Vanderbilt...

As we continue to deal with the struggles of our new norm in our world, my deepest and sincere condolences to families who have lost a loved one due to COVID-19. My thoughts are with the families who've lost employment or had their business closed. Everyone that owns a business, whether deemed essential or not, relies on that income and is suffering because of this. I would like to see the reopening of our economy as soon as it is safe. Throughout this process, the Village has followed the direction of the state guidelines on businesses reopening. We need and will get our families and businesses on the road to recovery.

With the approval from the Board, we have opened two new funding streams through the approval for the small cell wireless facilities and to permit adult use cannabis business establishments that should help offset the tax burden on our homeowners for years to come.

I'd like to welcome all the new businesses in 2019 including, but not limited to: Elevated Education, LLC; Kidds Palace Learning Academy, LLC; Step By Step: Spa for Your Mind LLC; Bounce 2 It Inflatables, Inc.; Destiny Housing; Jump in Playpen, Inc.; Epic Community Development Center; Metals Network, Inc.; Healing Steps Counseling; J'Lenee Salon and Spa; Respond Now, Inc.; State Senator Patrick Joyce's Office; True Compassion Foundation; Optimal Home Care Services, Inc.; Serenity's Place Café & Bakery, Inc.; and Southland Painting, Drywall & More, LLC. In addition to our brick and mortar locations in town, seven new home based businesses and eight caterers have joined Poppin Plates commercial kitchen in DownTown Park Forest. Speaking of DownTown, the first and only African American owned winery in the State of Illinois moved from 300 sq ft to its current location of 2,700 sq ft and is becoming a night time hot spot in the South Suburbs with food and music.

Park Forest is continuing to see homeownership and property values on the rise, both of which are positive indicators of the future of Park Forest as we Live, Grow and Discover together.

Sincerely,
Mayor Jonathan Vanderbilt
